NOON EDITION

NOON EDITION

THE DAY BOOK

An Adless Daily Newspaper.

N. D. Cochran, Editor and Publisher. 500 South Peoria St.

Tel. Monroe 353. Automatic 51-422. By Mail, 50 Cents a Month.

VOL. 3, NO. 77

Chicago, Monday, Dec. 29, 1913

ONE CENT

CHICAGO MASS MEETING DEMANDS U. S. PROBE OF MINE STRIKE

Denounces Forcible Deportation of Moyer and Tanner, and Blames Owners of Copper Mines for Loss of Life in Christmas Eve Panic—Strong Speeches by Labor Leaders.

The spirits of the seventy-two children and eight adults who were murdered in the Calumet, Mich., fire panic seemed to hover over the impressive mass meeting of protest held by organized labor yesterday afternoon.

And out of the sadness and horror of that holocaust there arose a fierce determination to win this strike for the striking miners of Upper Michigan.

This determination was intensified by the speeches of President John H. Walker, of the Illinois State Federation of Labor; of Yanco Terzich, who has fought and suffered with the Michigan strikers; of Charles H. Tanner, who was President Moyer's companion at the time of the shooting of the union head.

And when Emmett Flood suggested that union labor protect itself by force if necessary a riot of appliance broke out that lasted several minutes.

Other stirring speeches were made by Lieut.-Gov. Barratt O'Hara, Attorney Frank Comerford, President John Fitzpatrick of the Chicago Federation of Labor, and Claude O. Taylor, president of the Michigan State Federation of Labor.

A sensation was created by the arrival of a messenger from Tymoles, a Finnish paper, printed in Hancock, Mich., with information concerning